

Grant Writing Training: Group Workshops and Seminar Presentations

5 Reasons to Invest in Grant Writing Training for your Team

- 1 What previously worked doesn't work anymore.
- 2 Grant applications are becoming more detailed and there is more competition.
- 3 Trends are constantly changing on how to present data, develop metrics, and describe population served.
- 4 Your development team is new or you need to find new funding opportunities.
- 5 You want to help your fundraising staff do their job better, and feel more valued and engaged.

In today's world, job roles are constantly changing, and new challenges arise in the workplace. This can lead to job dissatisfaction and high turnover. Group training is a great tool to combat these issues, and build camaraderie. It also allows your team to thrive where they are.

About Your Trainer

Dondra Ward, CEO of Sidnae Global Research, will lead the training. As a grant reviewer she has evaluated $200M+ in grants and contracts for 10 government programs in health, education, agriculture, and environment. As a grant writer she has helped nonprofits- large and small- develop winning proposal strategies for foundation and government grants.
